Essential nutrition training for your Front Line Workers

An up-to-date competence and evidence-based program for all front line workers (FLW) in Uganda

Ensure FLW in your district don’t get left behind – invest in their skills and knowledge!

Professor Anthony K. Mbonye
Director General for Health Services,
Ministry of Health, Uganda

Developed by ECSA-HC
Reviewed by the nutrition community
Endorsed by the Ministry of Health

Maternal, Infant and Child Nutrition
Nutritional Assessment
Management of Nutritional Disorders
Nutrition Education and Counselling
Nutrition in Vulnerable Circumstances

Photo: © East, Central & Southern Africa Health Community (ECSA-HC)
In Uganda, malnutrition is a major driver of poverty and inequality. It is attributed to nearly 60% of all infant deaths\(^1\).

Across FLW cadres many professionals require strengthened competency, knowledge and skills to deliver quality nutrition services. Existing efforts towards improving nutrition education and practice are not harmonised between cadres and across different districts.

---

THE DEVELOPMENT PROCESS

- Consultative design and development
- Successful conclusion of pilot trials
- Deployment ready across districts

THE TRAINING EXPERIENCE

- Facility and community-based FLW packages
- Five day intensive course - four in-class, one practical
- Delivery at local health facilities or community settings

---

TAKE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO:

- INCREASE coverage statistics in your district
- MOTIVATE and skill the FLW workforce
- IMPROVE nutrition, health and poverty outcomes

---

For information on cost, availability and implementation, contact:

MARGARET KABAHENDA
The Assistant Commissioner, Nutrition Division, Ministry of Health

☎️ +256 417 712 260
✉️ mkabahenda@gmail.com